

EVENTS OF DAY IN WEST SCRANTON

A LARGE PARTY SHOWN THROUGH BELLEVUE MINE.

Number of Accidents—Mr. Custard Injured—Young Lad's Limbs Paralyzed—The Funeral of Mrs. George Saunders Held Yesterday—Miss Darling Entertained a Number of Friends—Reckless Bicyclist Runs Down a Young Lady—News Items and Personals.

The P. S. club, which is comprised of some of the most prominent young ladies on this side, entertained a number of their friends on Thursday evening at a mine party. The party was shown through the workings of the Bellevue mine by Inside Foreman Robert Owen. Flashlight pictures of the jovial crowd were taken while they were in the dark caverns of the earth. After seeking all the sights and wonders of the mine, they were brought to the surface and repaired to the home of Miss Edna Freeman, on South Main avenue, where they whiled away the rest of the evening, indulging in merry diversions. At a seasonable hour Miss Freeman, assisted by her sisters, served refreshments. Among those present were Misses Anna Lewis, Mae Davis, Eva Apper, Ellen Russell, Loretta Cannon, Edna and Florence Freeman and Bertha Drew, of Plymouth, and Robert Bonney, Harold Yost, Milton Moore, Edward Davis, William Clark, Clarence Maycock and Dick Richards.

FUNERALS OF YESTERDAY. The funeral of the late Mrs. George Saunders took place yesterday afternoon from the residence of her mother, Mrs. D. P. Williams, of Price street. Rev. D. P. Jones, pastor of the Tabernacle Congregational church, officiated. Many friends of the deceased attended and showed their respect. At the conclusion of the services the cortege moved to Washburn street cemetery, where interment was made. The services over the remains of the infant child of William Swartz, of Washburn street, were held yesterday afternoon from the family residence. Burial was made in St. John's Catholic cemetery. The funeral of the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Forbes was held yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in Cathedral cemetery.

A CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Mr. Custard, of Parvieve avenue, had his left foot smashed at the Weston mill. He was removed to his home, where Dr. Beach attended to his injuries. Edward Humphreys, of Pettebone street, received serious injuries to his side and back while at his work in the

Mr. Pleasant mine. He was assisting in laying rails, when one, in some unexplainable manner, fell, striking him with the above result. Dr. Beach attended him. Ralph, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, of Acker avenue, was seriously injured while visiting his aunt at Moscow. He was in the act of jumping from one wall to another, when he slipped and fell a distance of ten feet, striking on a wheelbarrow. The fall paralyzed his lower limbs. A man whose name could not be ascertained was slightly injured on South Main avenue yesterday morning by slipping on a banana peeling. George Thirwell was bitten in the calf of the left leg on Thursday. The bite was cauterized by Dr. Beach, and the dog shot. Samuel Beavers, of Lincoln avenue, a Lackawanna brakeman, was injured by a fall on Tuesday night.

MISS DARLING ENTERTAINS.

Miss Emily Darling, of Chestnut street, delightfully entertained the Bachelor Boys and the Merry Maidens at her home last evening. The above societies include a number of well-known young people of this side, joined together for social purposes. A few weeks ago the Bachelor Boys, who were camping at Lake Winola, entertained the Merry Maidens at their camp. The ladies reciprocated last evening. A very enjoyable time was had by all present, diversions incident to such events being merrily indulged in. Recitations and solos were ably rendered by several members of the group. Flashlight pictures were taken of the jovial gathering. At a seasonable hour light refreshments were served by Miss Darling, assisted by Margaret A. Williams and Carrie Darling. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Darling, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Kriebbaum, and Misses Ella Shaw, Margaret A. Williams, Emily and Carrie Darling, and Messrs. E. J. Coons, G. M. Daniels, Edward Davis, Miss Carolyn Henderson, of Plymouth, and Misses Bessie E. Davis, Mary Daniels, Lydia J. Davis, Cora Williams, Florence Davis, Edna Lewis, Margaret Crawford, Lulu Leader, Jessie Crawford, and M. Williams and Messrs. James E. Davis, Walter Lewis, Harry Watkins, Elmer Jenkins and William Watkins.

ANOTHER MINE PARTY.

Miss Bessie E. Davis entertained a number of her friends last evening at a mine party in honor of her guest, Miss Carolyn Henderson, of Plymouth. The party was shown through the Diamond mine by Evan P. Davis and William Watkins. Flashlight pictures were taken of the group. Those who comprised the party were Miss Carolyn Henderson, of Plymouth, and Misses Bessie E. Davis, Mary Daniels, Lydia J. Davis, Cora Williams, Florence Davis, Edna Lewis, Margaret Crawford, Lulu Leader, Jessie Crawford, and M. Williams and Messrs. James E. Davis, Walter Lewis, Harry Watkins, Elmer Jenkins and William Watkins.

FOR THROWING STONES.

Mr. Owen Moran, a well known character of Patagonia, went before Alder-

THE RECKLESS BICYCLIST.

The bicycle scorcher was again in evidence last evening, when a young lady, who would not give her name, was run down by one of the tribe on Main avenue, near Jackson street. She was knocked off her wheel and sustained severe bruises. The police are having a large amount of trouble with this class of riders, who persist in conducting amateur races meets between Jackson and Washburn streets.

MAN MOSES LAST EVENING AND SWORE OUT A WARRANT FOR THE ARREST OF MISS MARY GRIFFITHS, OF CHRIST COURT, CHARGING HER WITH THROWING STONES.

It appeared from the evidence given before the alderman that a sister of Mrs. Griffiths occupied a portion of Moran's mother's property and that the sister had got into a heated argument, which at last resulted in a stone fight. Miss Griffiths threw large stones at the door of her sister's home, thereby injuring Mrs. Moran's property, hence the suit. The case was settled by Mrs. Griffiths paying the cost.

GENERAL NEWS NOTES.

The Christian Endeavor society of the Plymouth church will give a social Tuesday evening in the church parlors. Mrs. John Slantz, of 214 Chestnut street, was presented with a beautiful rocker by the ladies of the German Presbyterian church. The Misses Phillips, of Jackson street, entertained last evening. An enjoyable time was had by all. The choir of St. Mark's Lutheran church will hold a lawn social on the lawn adjoining the church on Wednesday evening. Rev. H. A. Davis, "Gonmarit Abeldene" will preach on Monday evening in the First Congregational church. He is one of the delegates to the International council to be held at Boston, Sept. 20 to 28. The building committee of St. Mark's Lutheran church awarded the contract for the erection of the new church to Brink, Evans & Company. Work will begin immediately. H. H. Hatha council, Daughters of Pochontawic will conduct a social and fish pond on Monday evening, August 28. The Thomas Francis Meagher club will hold an important meeting in Earl Carl hall tomorrow afternoon. President J. J. O'Grady earnestly requests all members to be present. Mrs. Thomas Beddoe entertained at her home on North Garfield avenue on Wednesday evening. The ball team representing the Electric City Wheelmen will play a game with a team representing the Scranton Bicycle club at the ball park this afternoon. Admission, 15 cents; ladies free. A number of the Light Lunch Campaign club have returned from Oswego. The rest of the club will return this evening. A miners' meeting will be held in the Co-operative hall this evening. The volunteers will hold a rally in the Plymouth church on Monday evening.

DR. SULLIVAN SUSTAINS A BROKEN ARM.

Miss Hattie Richards tendered a surprise party. Yesterday morning Dr. J. J. Sullivan had his right arm broken by a runaway horse. He had been called early in the morning and had just returned. Before starting on his morning run against a couple of patients he removed the bridle from the horse and began to feed it a pail of oats. After eating a little the animal started to run away and the doctor tried to catch it around the neck, but was thrown against the fence. The car ran against a couple of telephone poles and completely wrecked the carriage. As a result of the accident the doctor will be forced to take a vacation for his right arm was broken near the wrist, and it will be necessary to purchase a new carriage.

JOHN KERRIGAN ARRESTED.

John Kerrigan, of Charles street, was arrested yesterday afternoon for trying to sell a piece of brass at Mulley's hardware store. As William Mass was solicited of his story of finding it he quickly notified Patrolman Saltry. Kerrigan was arrested and held while Charles Constantine, outside foreman of the Leggett's Creek breaker, was notified. Constantine identified the brass as a seat that was mislaid when the old breaker was torn down and becoming mixed with the rubbishage was thrown away. Kerrigan was censured for not having taken it to the company when he found it, but as he had committed no crime, was released.

SOUTH SCRANTON NOTES.

Six Boys Charged With Mischief—Annual Excursions of William Connell Hose Company and S. A. C. Today. Before Alderman Lentz last night was arraigned Emmal Kurtz, Henry Schall, James, and Leo Mullen, Peter Burah and Lorenz Schneider, on the charge of malicious mischief, preferred by Mrs. L. D. Powers. The defendants, who are boys, broke into the store of the prosectrix. When called for a hearing, they admitted their guilt. Upon the promise to make good the injury done, they were discharged. SHORT NEWS ITEMS. The annual excursion of the Scranton Athletic club will be run to Paupack today. The yearly outings of this popular organization are always a source of much pleasure. The energetic committee in charge of today's event has arranged a splendid programme for the occasion. Today the William Connell Hose company and friends will spend an enjoyable time at Lake Ariel. This will be the annual excursion of the company, and incidentally the yearly holiday of the employees of the Lackawanna knitting mills. By the courtesy of Charles L. Connell, manager of the mills, his one thousand or more help will be the guests of the hose company. Indications point that the affair will be a huge success. Bauer's band will furnish music for the occasion. A Polander, with an unpronounceable name, employed as a carpenter on a building being erected on Pittston avenue, corner of Elm street, fell from a scaffolding twenty feet high, yesterday. He was apparently not any the worse for his experience. The funeral of Edward Steindel will be held from his home on Pear street tomorrow afternoon. Services will be at the house. Interment will be made at Pittston avenue cemetery. Rev. Louis Harrison, of Maple street, has returned from a visit at Atlantic City. Miss Stella Lohar, of Birch street, is home from a visit at Moscow. Miss Minnie Foy is visiting relatives in New York city. The Misses Julia A. Donnelly, Mame Holand, Mame Guinness and Kathryn Reilly leave today for a ten days' stay at Lake Ariel.

AT THE BOX OFFICE.

A Woman Arrives at an Understanding Regarding Two Theatre Tickets From the Chicago Tribune. There was a long line of ticket buyers in front of the box office. At the head of the line, examining the plot, stood a richly bedecked woman with a poodle under her arm. "Now, you are right sure?" she asked. "There isn't a post in front of either of these two seats?" "There isn't a post in that part of the house, madam," replied the man in the box office. "I don't know about that"—and she drummed with her fingers on the framed plot—"I've been fooled that way so often. Many a time I've bought seats they said were all right and found out after I got there that a great big post stood right in front of me. When you pay out your money for theatre tickets you want—what did you say these would be?" "Dollar and a half each, ma'am. Will these two?" "I thought you told me a minute ago they were dollar seats?" "No, these are the dollar seats over here." "I see. Well, I don't want any over there. You charge too much for—" A loud cough, evidently forced, came from an impatient man about half way down the line. She looked slantly at him and resumed her conversation with the ticket seller. "Suppose I couldn't bring them myself. I might be sick, or something." "That's all right. Send them back. Shoot them back. Always glad to refund money on tickets," he said recklessly. "Will these two seats?" "Those are not the ones I picked out, are they? It seems to me—" "Oh, wrap the flag around me, boys! To die were far more sweet!" She sang in exasperated manner near the other end of the line. "Those are the ones, madam," said the man in the box office, wearily. "Will the—" "I thought they were further toward the left. Let me look—"

"Bow! wow!" barked an imitation dog near the street end of the line. "Moow! Moow! Sft!" answered an imitation cat with startling emphasis. "Keep quiet, Fido. They shan't hurt you, darling! Well, I suppose I'll have to—you said $2 for these two seats, didn't you?" "Three dollars for these two. The dollar seats are back here." A deep groan ran along the line. "I think these men are very rude," she said. "Would seats in the fourth row in front of these come any higher?" "No, ma'am, but these are all taken, as I explained a while ago. They're still taken. These are the nearest stage of all we have left." "Well, I believe I'll—are you sure there are no posts in front—Oh, I believe I did ask you about that. Three dollars? Here it is." "This is a two-dollar bill, ma'am." "Is it?" she gasped. "It was a five when I left home! Let me see it. So it is. I'll have to pick out a couple of dollar seats, unless—" "That's all right, ma'am!" exclaimed the ticket seller with the eagerness of a drowning man grasping at a straw. "I'll save those seats for you till 7 o'clock this evening." "Thanks, ever so much!" With a beaming smile she clasped her poodle closer, slowly withdrew from her place at the head of the line and marched serenely away, ignoring the long-drawn sighs of relief that accompanied her departure, and business was resumed at the box office.
